Do you want to be part of a network of freelance clinicians working together and supporting each other to create the highest quality, largest and most innovative mental health service in the UK?

Our Vision

At Psych Health, we believe that excellence in clinical care is achieved by supporting clinicians to do what they do best. Our aim is to create an organisational culture in which clinicians can work together and feel empowered to develop and grow, and through that process deliver the highest level of care to our patients.

This also extends to building a supportive community for our network clinicians where you will get regular referrals, access to a wide-ranging CPD programme and flexibility on work scheduling to support your work-life balance and mental wellbeing.

The Company

Psych Health is one of the leading independent providers of psychological services to the workplace sector. Established 13 years ago, and lead by clinicians, we place our clinical work the quality of it at the heart of what we do. We work across a varied and rapidly expanding client base including employers, insurers and Occupational Health providers, and provide high quality psychological assessment and therapy across a diverse range of sectors including construction, charities, emergency services, engineering, manufacturing, financial and professional services, public sector, retail and utilities.

Our Network

- HCPC registered Clinical or Counselling Psychologists
- BABCP Accredited CBT Therapists
- BACP or equivalent Accredited Counsellors
- Experienced in providing mental health assessments, treatment and managing own caseload in a Primary Care or workplace/ OH setting
- Individuals with a strong grasp of a range of evidence based psychological therapy models
- Varied and diverse clinical experience
- Experienced in face to face and remote clinical delivery

The Role

- Working during your chosen hours and managing your own appointments, you will conduct mental health assessments and treatment relevant to your modality to patients referred within the workplace context
- Diverse clinical caseload with varied clinical presentations and contextual factors
- Autonomy and freedom to work remotely or from your own practice treatment room delivering the best care for our patients that fits with patient need
- High levels of administrative and technological support

The role is best suited to someone who is looking for additional referrals to fit with current private practice commitments or someone currently working part-time with ability to take on sessional referrals.

Additional Information

The information you submit as part of your expression of interest to join the network will be held and used by us in accordance with the provisions of the Data Protection Act 2018, which incorporates the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), and all relevant subsequent legislation. Upon receiving your initial expression of interest, we will be required to maintain and process data about you for the purposes of joining our network, throughout our onboarding process and to maintain accurate data about you once you have joined.

We will retain the details of anyone who starts and then withdraws from the onboarding process for a period of 12 months from initial point of contact.

Although our network roles are self-employed, we are keen to highlight that we are an equal opportunities employer and we positively encourage applications from suitably qualified and eligible candidates regardless of sex, race, disability, age, sexual orientation, gender reassignment, religion or belief, marital status, or pregnancy and maternity.
